Account Director -Enterprise Accounts, Dell Technologies
Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Summary

Accomplished technology and telecom executive with over two decades of leadership experience across globally recognized enterprises including Dell Technologies, HP Inc., Vodafone Idea, and Airtel. I bring a proven record of steering large, complex businesses, driving sustained revenue growth, and shaping customer-centric transformation at scale. My leadership approach blends strategic clarity with strong stakeholder alignment, enabling organizations and teams to consistently outperform and elevate their impact.

I am deeply committed to continuous learning, with a particular focus on the role of AI and emerging technologies in reshaping business models, operational frameworks, and customer engagement. With extensive experience spanning IoT, Smart Cities, Unified Communications, Cloud, and enterprise networking, I serve as a trusted advisor to CXOs, helping them navigate technology disruption with confidence and precision.

In my current role as Enterprise Accounts Leader at Dell Technologies, I champion AI-driven innovation across customer organizations—advancing modernization agendas, accelerating digital transformation, and unlocking long-term value. My career is defined by an ability to scale new businesses, revitalize challenged operations, and build high-performing, customer-obsessed teams that deliver measurable outcomes.
